

NOVEMBER 2020

m&it

meetings & incentive travel

IN THIS ISSUE

The new sustainability
It's now or never

Inside incentives
The waiting game

Data package
More important than ever?

WHAT JUST HAPP
ENED

2020: the year that changed everything

It's been a long year – and everyone's itching to return to live events as soon as possible. Hopefully that will be sooner than we think, but until then, we'll leave you for 2020 with a reminder of just what we're all so desperate to get back to. Below is a selection of winners of the Off To Work Event Photography Awards 2020, unveiled during a virtual awards ceremony streamed in November.

Catering icon Albert Roux's expressive 'Eyes for Detail' as captured by Deb Porter scooped the Overall Winner title.

The then 84-year old chef was assiduously checking plates before they were delivered to diners at Keith Prowse's 700-seater restaurant The Lawn during last year's Wimbledon.

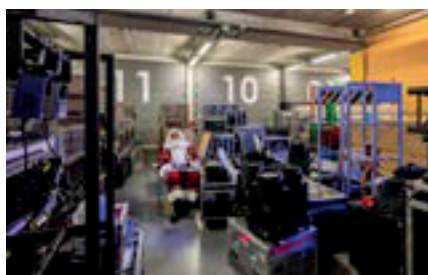

There was a highly-commended award for Dutch photographer, Floris Heuer, who caught 'Santa on a Break' during a corporate Christmas party. Other notable award winners included double category winner Noah Goodrich.

Venues winner: Alistair Veryard – Capacious Closing celebration of the International Fiscal Association conference at St. Paul's Cathedral. Over 1,000 guests gathered for a performance from the London Symphony Orchestra.

Best of British winner: Jesus Figueirido Estevez - ENO London Coliseum -London Coliseum looking absolutely fabulous for the Evening Standard Theatre Awards.

Highly commended: Floris Heuer – Santa on a break.

Behind the Scenes winner: Daniel Vogel – The Power of Preparations.

Brand Activations & Experiential Events winner: Noah Goodrich - Hanging on Display - Clothes from UniQlo's latest season are alluringly hung on a display during an activation at Somerset House in London

Corporate Events & Conferences winner: Noah Goodrich - Enjoying the View - Guests at a preview event at 100 Bishopsgate, one of London's biggest new skyscrapers, enjoy the stunning views from the 34th floor.

Trade Shows & Exhibitions winner: Kevin Moran – Don't Let The Power Go To Your Head A visitor controls a huge interactive lighting installation at annual gaming innovation showcase ICE London, held at ExCeL